About me

G'day, it's nice to meet you all. I was wonder if you could help and old guy out. I have somehow found myself in the pound and need a way out. The pound staff have called me Ben as they think it's a good strong name, much like me being big and strong. I am looking for a new home and maybe you are looking for a guy like me. Puppies are cute and all but you have to teach toilet training and learn just about everything a dog needs to know. Well with me having some years of experience behind me, I know all these things already, so I would be a pretty easy fit I reckon. I get along with dogs but can try and pull on lead to get a closer look on occasion and be a bit barky with some if too excited but not all the time. If you have a dog at home please ask to bring them with you when you come to meet me. Because of my size/age if you have kids please make sure they come to meet me as well to see if they can handle this big body if mine. All in all, I am a big friendly dog looking for a couch to lie on. Or a special bed just for me.
