About me

Hi guys, it's Derik. I hear you are looking for a handsome young lad to take home and take on walks and play with. Look no further cos I am right here. I am a really fun dog to have around, I am not much of a cuddle bug, in fact I am quite independent and love to have my own space, I mean I do like pats and scratches of course. I am just not much for being picked up and cuddling, or snuggling on the couch. I am into running outside and having heaps of outdoor fun. I would love to be in a home with a family or couple that loves going on adventures. Who are active and want to take me with them to join in on their fun. I love these types of interactions with my people. I am also really good with other dogs, I have met a few here now and I love meeting new friends. If you have a dog at home already please ask to bring them with you as I would love to meet them. Well what else can I say about me, I am outdoorsy, love active people that like to take me on their adventures and I'm always happy. If this sound like you, you better come and meet me quick, I reckon everyone is going to love me, even if I do say so myself :)
